About MAC

MAC Clinical Research have been successfully conducting clinical trials on behalf of the pharmaceutical industry for over 30 years, specialising in a range of medically unmet treatment areas.

With a highly skilled team of ex-GPs and ex-NHS clinicians, and clinics across the UK, MAC is leading the investigation of new medicines.

Working within communities to forge and maintain relationships with GP colleagues, we keep patients informed of research they could be eligible for.

Our process has been developed to have no impact on clinician time and minimal impact on administrative time.

MAC utilises a fully digital service for contacting identified patients through pre-approved SMS and email messages, each containing a secure tracked link to the study information. This approach reduces administrative burden, enhances patient engagement, and removes the need for printing or postal processes. All communications comply with GDPR and ethical guidelines.
